Representative W. R. Skidmore, a railroad switchman, has drawn, had referred and favorably reported a bill—the shortest bill thus far introduced—which makes October 12 a legal holiday in New Mexico, and which is to be known as "Columbus day."

The bill will now go into the august presence of the senate, but its father has no worried look; he believes the senators of New Mexico will be willing to have another holiday and thus pay tribute to the revered Christopher.
